You spend money on oil for one simple reason: to keep your engine operating at full efficiency. But most traditionally solvent refined oils don't deliver optimum performance – because they oxidize faster. Synthetics may be too expensive. By combining 100% Conoco hydrocracked base oil with the finest additives, Conoco has produced an exceptional line of motor oils that approach the performance of synthetics at a cost more competitive with conventional products.

- synthetic like performance
- ½ the cost
- chemically clean
- high performance oil
- 1005 premium hydro-cracked base oil
- better cold start wear protection
- superior wear protection for naturally aspirated, turbo charged and supercharged engines “special price”.
